Race Riots at Wilmington

Racial trouble which developed Sunday night following the shooting of George Hunter, Jr., a negro, by Patrolman Sharpless culminated in race riots in several sections of Wilmington Monday night, resulting in three persons being shot, and a score or more being injured less seriously by flying bricks and other missiles. John Hughes, aged twenty-six, was shot in the head and side, and Harry Stevens, aged eighteen, was shot in the stomach. Both are white, and both seriously injured. So great has been the disorder in the city that acting Mayor White, asked that the Militia be called out, and four local companies were ordered under arms at the armory by acting Governor Ferguson. Their presence had a good effect and the city was quiet.

M., he met Benjamin Gibbs and Elmer Vinyard returning from Augustine Beach and running into them, smashed Gibbs' carriage to pieces and damaged the auto to the extent of several hundred dollars. Blockson returned the auto to the garage. Gibbs took the number of the car and learning that it belonged to Mr. Walls at once notified him of the trouble. No one was hurt.

Game Warden Here

Charles Bennett State and Federal Game Warden was in town on Monday, looking after persons who are reported to have been violating the law in this section by killing plover. This offence comes under the Federal game law, and Mr. Bennett has received a letter stating that gunners were violating the law in this section.

Our citizens who enjoy this sport had better get themselves informed as to the law protecting the plover; otherwise some of them may have a heavy fine or imprisonment facing them.

COUSIN CALE FRIGHTENED

EDITOR TRANSCRIPT—DEAR SIR:—

The New Era has never represented the Democrats of St. Georges Hundred and most of us look on it as a joke. But I am a subscriber all the same for its all we have. In this week's issue I notice there is something else than Cousin Cale's four line editorial, a two column attack on you as a member of the Levy Court. Didn't know you drew so much water friend Fouracre. All the same I'm sure of one thing, that it's mighty poor judgment for Cousin Cale to be telling everybody how badly scared the party is, that you are going to run again.

Cousin Cale feels things sure enough look squally for your Democrat opponent and that something's got to be done or the jigs up, so he has up two columns of the stuff the sensational Wilmington reporters are printing about you and the road contract.

But the poor old fellow who really thinks he is editing a Democrat newspaper and striking big licks for the party is really making a fool of himself, for instead of making the number of Democrats less who voted for you at the last election, he is only making them greater by printing such stuff.

I, for one Democrat can tell him he's fooling himself and if he could hear the opinion of many Democrats on his bad break, in saying in so many words that your candidacy is scaring the local Democracy he would keep quiet until after election.

But perhaps he's to be more pitted than blamed for he is so anxious to get some necessary pickings for Caleb that he's losing his head.

I want to tell him one thing though a Democrat I voted for you at the last election on grounds of personal friendship, and what's more am going to do so again for the same reason, and also because of the fine record that you have made as a member of the Levy Court.

We tax-payers in St. Georges Hundred have had for once, the good luck of seeing our member dead against all odds and log-rolling schemes.

In conclusion I wish to tell Cousin Cale that I like at least ninety-nine other Democrats in St. Georges Hundred who are expressing themselves freely on this question; think well enough your record to give you our support at the November election.

A DEMOCRAT.

CIRCUS COMING TO TOWN SOON

In the little town of Monroe, Louisiana, lived the family of Enos Hays, and about thirty-seven years ago there came to grace the family a son, and as soon as he could even play with toys, pet playthings were to toy animals his parents and neighbors had given him. When he grew older, his play days were spent playing circus and show, and when he was fortunate enough to see one of the circuses that visited his own home, he would elaborate on it in his own way, and so it went on until he was 19 years old. He then secured a position with one of the large circuses in an executive capacity, returning home at the finish of the season with one thought, to have a show of his own that would be recognized by the circus king, also a Southern show for Southern people. The following spring he bought a flat boat and organized a small show, floating down the Red River on the flat boat, playing the small towns on the river front. He next bought a few wagons, and started an overland show, every year enlarging and getting new features and with ever that one idea and ambition, to give his friends, the public, the best money could procure, successful management suggest and brains devise. Every year Mr. Hays enlarged his show until it became too large to travel on wagons. It was then transposed to a railroad show with its own special trains.

Haag Shows will exhibit at Middletown, Monday, September 7, 1914.

Fire at Armstrong's

Fire of a mysterious origin took place at Armstrong's Corner about midnight on Sunday. A threshing machine and a fodder-shredder, both belonging to William Smith, were destroyed. The building in which they were stored belonged to Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong and was burned to the ground. Some farm machinery belonging to B. Vance Armstrong also was destroyed. The threshing machine had not been in use this season and was fully insured; the building and other machinery were not insured. As far as is known no one was around the building or had been for some time before the fire broke out. The fire seemed to start, according to people on the scene early in the inside of the threshing. Incendiarism is suspected.

IMPROVED HIGHWAYS

Proved By Government to be Rich Investment

PAYS 40 PER CENT. DIVIDEND

The United States Department of Agriculture has satisfactorily demonstrated that improved roads vastly increase the productivity of areas through which they run. By actual experiment, it has been found that counties where improved roads have been constructed are now producing from 50 to 100 per centum more than formerly.

In addition to quantity produced, the cost of hauling has naturally decreased; in other words, farmers in sections that have fine roads are producing more cheaply than ever before, for the cost of transportation to market is of course an important factor in the cost of production. From this point of view, it has been estimated that $100,000 spent in improving the roads of this county will save farmers here about $41,000 annually. A great many people scoff at figures like these; but this is not theoretical dreaming, but actual facts that have been found to be absolutely true. Before roads are improved, it is estimated that the average cost of hauling is about 20 cents a ton mile. After improvement takes place, this cost falls to 12 cents a ton mile, or a saving of 8 cents. In an investment of $100,000, this saving would mean a dividend of about 40 per cent. Because this saving does not take the form of cash put directly in the farmers' pocket, there has been a disposition not to take it seriously and to believe that it is fictitious profit, while as a matter of fact, it is just as real a source of profit as an increase in the price of wheat.

In a county in Virginia, where the government has been making actual experiments of this kind, the average load for two mules on a main road was about 1,000 pounds before the road was improved. After improvement, the load was found to be about 2,000 pounds, and the time consumed in hauling the larger load to market was much reduced. So one man with a wagon and two mules could do more than twice as much with an improved road as with an improved one.

This is the explanation of the extraordinary rise in the total output of agricultural products in counties in this state that have an efficient road system.

Rocky Road To Matrimony

Middletown, Aug. 19. — A young couple from Darby, Pa., ran afoul of Delaware's new marriage law, last week. They arrived at Middletown for a visit to a farmer near town, and while here concluded to get married. As Justice of the Peace Cox, was away on his vacation, they were forced to proceed to Townsend, where they got the necessary license from Squire Carter, giving their names as Clarence Houseman and Mary Chester of Darby, Pa.

After they had left Townsend the squire, not having issued many licenses to non-residents, read up on the law and learned that they had not been in Delaware the necessary number of hours. Accordingly he put off post haste after them and "lifted" the license.

The couple were very much put out and a council of war was held. Liveryman L. C. Scott was called in and solved their troubles by sending them to Elkton, Md., in an automobile, where the nuptial knot was tied. They returned immediately to the home of Mr. Baker, whom they were visiting, and stayed until Sunday evening, when they left for home.

DELAWARE COLLEGE

The Publicity Committee Has Issued an Interesting Book

LETTER FROM REV. WHITAKER

Among the letters received by the publicity committee of the Faculty in regard to the booklet entitled "Views of Delaware College" which the committee recently prepared and distributed was one of especial interest to every person connected in any way with the College. This letter was from Reverend Ephraim Whitaker, Class of '47, probably the oldest living alumnus of Old Delaware. The letter is of noteworthy significance as showing the strong feeling of esteem and loyalty which the alumni, especially the older alumni, bear toward the institution of learning at which they received their life training.

After graduation from Delaware College in 1847, Mr. Whitaker did graduate work in the same institution, receiving the degree of A. F. in 1850. In 1867 Yale conferred upon him an honorary degree of A. M., and in 1877 his Alma Mater conferred upon him the degree of D. D. In addition to holding many places of trust and honor in the Presbyterian Church, he has been Councillor of the Long Island Historical Society since 1883, honorary member of New Haven Colony Historical Society since 1883, and a member of several other historical societies. He is, moreover, the author of a number of books, including New Fruits from an Old Field; 1865; History of Southold, 1640-1740; Leaves of All Season-Hymns and other verses, 1894; History of the Presbyterian Church of Fairfield, N. J.; New Haven Colony's Adventure on the Delaware Bay; Introduction to the printed Town Records of Southold, Vol. 1, 1892, Vol. 11, 1884; Introduction to printed record of Celebration of 250th Anniversary of Southold; Early Presbyterianism on Long Island; The American Union of Church and State; The Growth of Suffolk County; The Last Fifty Years of Suffolk County; Also many pamphlets.

The Reverend Dr. Whitaker is an alumnus who has made good, of whom Delaware College may well feel proud. Although in his 95th year he still takes a keen interest in the activities and the general welfare of his Alma Mater.

COURSE IN HOME ECONOMICS

Miss Winford Robinson, Dean of the new Women's College, announces that an extension course in Home Economics will be given during the coming year. This course is made possible by the recent passage by Congress of the Smith-Lever bill as a result of which Delaware will receive about $10,000 a year for extension work in agriculture and allied subjects. Although plans have not yet been perfected, Miss Robinson states that the work given under the general direction of Professor Myron Head of the department of economics in the Women's College will consist chiefly of work in cooking, that it will be given by means of correspondence classes at various centres in the states. In the selection of these centres, those in charge of the work will take into consideration the convenience of the greatest number of applicants.

Owing to the fact that the contractors will begin shortly the work of oiling the floors and interior woodwork, it will be necessary to close the buildings of the new Women's College to visitors on Wednesday, August 19th, for a period of about two or three weeks. The buildings are rapidly nearing completion, and will be ready for classes before the opening of the College on September 15th.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Work has commenced on the new poultry plant at Delaware College and everything is expected to be ready for the International Egg Laying Competition which is to be conducted by Delaware College in co-operation with the State Board of Agriculture and the Philadelphia North American. The competition will open on November 1, and it is expected that six hundred birds gathered from all over the United States, England, and Canada will be here ready to enter at the opening of the competition.

The College Farm expects to harvest about 3000 baskets of peaches, mostly Belle of Georgias and Elbertas, although a few Champignons are being picked at the present time. The crop has been sold, with the exception of five hundred baskets, to Peter C. Cella, Jr. Newark.

Preparations are already being made for the College exhibit at the State Fair

LIEGE FORTS BLOWN UP BRUSSELS REPORTED TAKEN

President Issues Statement After German-Americans Had Appealed For Him to Use Influence With Japan.

London.—Liege has fallen, her forts battered into ruins by the heavy artillery of the Germans, but the defense of those forts to the very last against six German army corps by the heroic Belgians, or, as Germany asserts, by trained French artillerymen, has won for the quiet old town a fame as imperishable as Samarra, Malplaquet and Waterloo.

Another great engagement is pending where lie the dead of Marlborough, Wellington and Napoleon. In Brussels there is no scene of revelry, for as this dispatch is filed it is reported the Belgian capital is taken by the Kaiser's troops, lured to a battle which now seems as sure as fate will be fought on the historic field on which Napoleon lost his crown and France her control of Europe.

It seems, indeed, the very irony of fate that while the French with the battle cry "Revenge" are driving the Germans before them in Alsace until her cavalry is now within sound of the bells and in sight of the clock in Strasbourg's great cathedral, another army of Frenchmen, owing to the bloody sacrifices of the brave Belgians, and backed by the descendants of Wellington's army, has come face to face with the ancient foe on the battle ground where Grouchy failed the great Emperor and the arrival of Blucher's Prussians insured Napoleon's defeat and doom.

Rotterdam, via London.—It is asserted here that the forts at Liege were dynamited by the Belgians after they had been evacuated, the action of the Belgians being due to the arrival of Germany's heavy motor batteries.

FRENCH SINK FOUR SHIPS.

Fight in the Adriatic Sea Between the Austrian and French
Fleets Confirmed.

Rome (via London).—Confirmation of the naval fight in the Adriatic is given in a dispatch from Cattaro to the Corriere d'Italia, which says that the Austrian battleship Erzini and three other ships, whose names could not be ascertained, were sunk by the French fleet. A great number of French and English warships are said to be patrolling the coast.

Paris.—The ministry of marine announced that a French fleet, under Admiral de Peyre, had sunk an Austrian cruiser, which was blockading the Montenegrin port of Antivari.

London.—The British official news bureau says: "The French fleet in the Mediterranean has made a sweep up the Adriatic Sea as far as Cattaro. A small Austrian cruiser of the Aspern type was fired on by the French vessels and sunk."

AFTER THE BATTLE.

Gruesome Scene Described By Correspondent Of London Newspaper.

London.—A trip over the battlefield of Flest, Belgium, is described by the Brussels correspondent of the Daily News. He says:

"I remember best a brown stretch of harrowed ground, half a furlong in length, which is the grave of 1,200 Germans who fell in the fighting of Wednesday. All over the field are other graves, some of Germans, some of Belgians and some of horses. "When I reached the place peasants with long spades were still engaged in the work of burial. The battleground is about three miles long, with the village of Haelen at one end. The village is harshly scarred. Its houses are pierced with bullet holes. Hardly a pane of glass remains. The church spire is tumbled over and the town clock wrenched from its place. "As I passed across the battlefield a German biplane swept by like a carrion crow, seeking other victims. Later in the day I visited the Bruges Prison, where 400 Germans are held. I never before saw men sleep as these men did. They lay like logs after seven days and nights of almost constant duty on the field of battle. These prisoners are no cowards. They surrendered only when no other course was possible. They were victims of the German military system, which drills men out of all independence."

WILSON ASKS PEOPLE TO BE FAIR IN THEIR WAR UTTERANCES

Washington, D. C.—Addressing the American people, President Wilson issued a statement warning citizens of the United States against intemperate partisanship in the European war.

The President, according to officials close to him, was moved to issue the proclamation by a firm determination to keep out of the dispute between Germany and Japan over the Far East, and also because he was deeply concerned over the course of naturalized Americans who came from countries now at war taking sides in public discussions in the United States of the European war. On previous occasions he has publicly spoken against what he termed "hyphenated Americans"—Irish-Americans, German-Americans or other classifications of the sort. This feeling is understood to have prompted the issuance of his statement today.

Sentiments similar to those uttered by the President were expressed in the House by Minority Leader Mann. The President's statement is as follows:

Fellow-Countrymen: Suppose that every thoughtful man in America has asked himself the last troubled weeks what influence the European war may have upon the United States, and I take the liberty of addressing a word to you in order to point out that it is entirely within our power to make its effects upon us will be and to urge very earnestly upon the sort of speech and conduct which will best safeguard the nation against distress and disaster.

"The effect of the war upon the United States will depend upon that American citizens say and do. Every man who really loves America will get and speak the true spirit of neutrality, which is the spirit of impartiality and fairness and friendliness to all concerned. The spirit of the nation in this critical matter will be determined largely by what individuals and society and those gathered in public meetings do and say, upon what newspapers and magazines contain, upon what our ministers utter in their pulpits and men proclaim as their opinions on the streets.

"The people of the United States are drawn from many nations, and chiefly from the nations now at war. It is natural and inevitable that there should be the utmost variety of sympathy and desire among them with regard to the issues and circumstances of the conflict. Some will wish one nation, others another to succeed in the momentous struggle. It will be easy to excite passion and difficult to allay it.

"Those responsible for exciting it will assume a heavy responsibility; responsibility for no less a thing than that the people of the United States, whose love of their country and whose loyalty to its Government should unite them as Americans all, bound in honor and affection to think first of her and her interests, may be divided in camps of hostile opinions, hot against each other, involved in the war itself in impulse and opinion, if not in action. Such divisions among us would be fatal to our peace of mind and might seriously stand in the way of the proper performance of our duty as the one great nation at peace, the one people holding itself ready to play a part of impartial mediation and speak the counsels of peace and accommodation, not as a partisan but as a friend.

"I venture therefore, my fellow-countrymen, to speak a solemn word of warning to you against that deepest, most subtle, most essential breach of neutrality which may spring out of partisanship, out of passionately taking sides. The United States must be neutral in fact as well as in name during these days that are to try men's souls. We must be impartial in thought as well as in action, must put a curb upon our sentiments as well as upon every transaction that might be construed as a preference of one party to the struggle before another.

"My thought is of America. I am speaking, I feel sure, the earnest wish and purpose of every thoughtful American that this great country of ours, which is, of course, the first in our thought and in our hearts, should show herself in this time of peculiar trial a nation fit beyond others to exhibit the fine police of undisturbed judgment, the dignity of self-control, the efficiency of dispassionate action; a nation that neither sits in judgment upon others nor is disturbed in her own councils and which keeps herself fit and free to do what is honest and disinterested and truly serviceable for the peace of the world.

"I shall not resolve to put upon ourselves the restraint which will bring to our people the happiness and the great and lasting influence for peace we covet for them."

RED CROSS TO SAIL IN 10 DAYS.

Foreign-Built Ships Admitted To American Registry.

Washington, D. C.—The American Red Cross announced it hoped to dispatch its relief expedition to Europe within the next ten days. A joint resolution authorizing admittance to American registry of foreign-built ships for use of the Red Cross was passed by Congress. Miss Helen Scott, of Chicago, will be directing head of the nurses on the expedition.

ARMADAS IN SKIRMISH.

No Losses Reported Or Claimed, Says
London Press Bureau.

London.—The British official press bureau announces that some desultory fighting occurred between the British patrolling squadrons and flotillas and German cruisers, which were reconnoitering. No losses are reported or claimed. "A certain liveliness is apparent in the southern area of the North Sea," says the press bureau.

WAR DISPATCHES IN CONDENSED FORM

Paris Gives Out Reports Of Advance
In Alsace and Tell Of the Capture Of a Prussian Eagle.

Belgium's seat of government has been removed from Brussels to Antwerp, according to report in London, and preparations are being made to defend Brussels against approaching German cavalry. This tends to the belief that the German advance in Belgium has been steady, which is further indicated by the fact of an engagement as far south as Dinant. Defeat of a German force by French at Dinant is asserted in a London dispatch from Namur.

Brussels admits that the French casualties in the fighting between Namur and Dinant were heavy, as the Germans were strongly entrenched and their artillery played great havoc. French troops have occupied the town of Schirmeck, in Alsace, capturing 1,000 prisoners, 12 field guns and 8 rapid-firers, according to an official announcement of the Paris War Office, which also asserts that the French armies continue their forward march in Alsace.

The German Emperor, the Crown Prince and two other Imperial princes are now at the great fortress of Mainz. Successes by the Russian troops over the Austrians on the frontier, where an Austrian dragoon regiment is said to have suffered severely in a sabre engagement, is announced in St. Petersburg dispatches.

Several Austrian army corps, according to advices from Vienna, have invaded Russia, and the Russian advance in Galicia has been checked. A German dreadnaught is reported by the captain of a Dutch steamer as lying in harbor at Trondhjem badly damaged.

The French fleet in the Mediterranean has made a clean sweep up the Adriatic as far as Cattaro, according to the British official news. Four Austrian warships are reported to have been sunk.

Montenegrin troops have crossed the Bosnian frontier and occupied the town of Tschinitza after a fierce battle. They are also credited with capturing eight Austrian block houses and several villages.

The British military and naval movements are still shrouded in mystery. Japan's ultimatum to Germany causes some anxiety at Washington. President Wilson said he had no reason to doubt Japan's assurances that it had no designs on China.

The British official press bureau announces that any action which Japan may take against Germany will not extend beyond the China Seas, except for the protection of Japanese shipping.

Many American travelers arrived in New York from Europe. Many wealthy persons were glad to obtain accommodation in the storages.

A large quantity of gold for the relief of Americans stranded in the British Isles was sent to London from the American cruiser Tennessee, at Falmouth.

BARS WAR CORRESPONDENTS.

British Army Council Revokes All Passes Issued.

London.—The British Army Council has decided not to allow any war correspondents to accompany the expeditionary forces for the present. Some passes had been issued, but these were revoked. In a letter announcing its decision the council says that the French Army officials also have decided not to allow any correspondents to accompany their forces. It is understood that correspondents will be asked to leave Belgium. Some are already returning.

U. S. ALSO REPRESENTS RUSSIA.

Want Of Treaty No Bar To Handling Diplomatic Interests.

Washington, D. C.—The United States is now caring for the diplomatic interests of Russia, as well as the other belligerent powers of Europe, except Serbia and Montenegro. The addition of Russia was viewed with interest because of the absence of treaty relations between the United States and Russia. The Russian treaty was denounced by this country in 1911 and no pact to replace it has been negotiated.

KAISER GOES TO FRONT.

Departure Occasions Patriotic Outbursts By Papers.

London.—A dispatch from Berlin says that the German Emperor's departure for the front has occasioned patriotic outbursts by the newspapers of all parties. An Exchange Telegraph from Mainz says that the German Emperor, accompanied by three of his sons, including Crown Prince Frederick William, has arrived there.

SERBS REPEL AUSTRIANS.

Repulse Enemy At Buyak — Quiet
Night At Belgrade.

London.—The correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Company at Nish, Serbia, telegraphing under date of August 15, says: "Our troops at Buyak, near Lyra, successfully repelled the enemy. Near Kunachitz, opposite Lomitz, the enemy has thrown a bridge across the Drina and fortified its position on both banks."

SAYS TURKS BOUGHT CRUISERS.

Paris Dispatch Tells Of German Ships
In Dardanelles.

London.—A special dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Paris says the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau arrived in the Dardanelles following their purchase by Turkey flying the Turkish flag. The dispatch adds that the German fittings of the cruisers had been dismantled. Neither the British Foreign Office nor the Turkish Embassy has received any dispatch confirming the reported purchase by Turkey of the cruisers.

JAPAN GETTING INTO CONFLICT

Ultimatum to Germany to Withdraw Fleet in East.

WAR IN CASE OF REFUSAL.

Tokio Foreign Office Gives United States Assurance That Interests Of This Country Would Be Safeguarded.

Tokio.—Japan sent an ultimatum to Germany demanding the withdrawal of German warships from the Orient and the evacuation of Kiauchau and giving Germany until Sunday, August 22, to comply with the demand. Otherwise, the ultimatum states, Japan will take action.

The general expectation here is that the ultimatum will be followed by war. Takaaki Kato, the Japanese Foreign Minister, simultaneously with the dispatch of the ultimatum, conferred with George W. Guthrie, the American Ambassador, and made to him a broad statement calculated to assure the United States that American interests in the Far East would be safeguarded and the integrity of China upheld.

Count Okuma, the Japanese Premier, Sunday invited the peers, the newspaper men and the leading business men of Tokio to come to his office at noon, at 4 and at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, respectively, when he made known to them the terms of the ultimatum and announced that he would give out the negotiations in connection with the alliance.

Ultimatum Given.

The ultimatum follows: "We consider it highly important and necessary in the present situation to take measures to remove the causes of all disturbances of the peace in the Far East and to safeguard the general interests as contemplated by the agreement of alliance between Japan and Great Britain.

"In order to secure a firm and enduring peace in Eastern Asia, the establishment of which is the aim of the said agreement, the Imperial Japanese Government sincerely believes it to be its duty to give the advice to the Imperial German Government to carry out the following two propositions:

"First—To withdraw immediately from Japanese and Chinese waters German men-of-war and armed vessels of all kinds and to disarm at once those which cannot be so withdrawn.

"Second—To deliver on a date not later than September 15 to the Imperial Japanese authorities without condition or compensation the entire leased territory of Kiauchau with a view to the eventual restoration of the same to China.

"The Imperial Japanese Government announces at the same time that in the event of it not receiving by noon on August 23, 1914, an answer from the Imperial German Government signifying its unconditional acceptance of the above advice offered by the Imperial Japanese Government Japan will be compelled to take such action as she may deem necessary to meet the situation."

Urged On By Great Britain.

Inspired utterances express regret at the inability to maintain neutrality, but say that Great Britain, the ally of Japan, is compelled to defend herself against the aggressions of Germany. Moreover, it is pointed out that Germany is making preparations day and night at Kiauchau, where it is storing provisions, while its warships are scouring the seas of Eastern Asia, to the great detriment of commerce, and that its converted cruisers are seizing English merchant vessels.

Such actions, it is argued, are directly calculated to disturb the peace of Eastern Asia, and accordingly, after full and frank communication with Great Britain, Japan has found herself compelled to send an ultimatum to Germany.

SERBIA WINS BATTLE.

Dispatch Reports Repulse Of 400,000
Austrians—Austrians Occupy Sabac.

London.—A dispatch from Nish, sent by way of Athens, gives the Serbian official account of recent fighting on the frontier.

"Four hundred thousand Austrians," says the War Office, "attacked the Serbians Wednesday night. A fierce battle extended all along the line. Finally the Austrians were repulsed with heavy casualties toward Tekia, on the Roumanian frontier, and also repulsed from Belgrade, where they had attempted to cross the Danube. Through numerical superiority the enemy succeeded in crossing the Save."

WHEN THE KAISER TRAVELS.

War Train Has Dining, Council and Sleeping Cars.

London.—The German Emperor's war train is described by a refugee just escaped from Germany. The train is intended for the use of the Emperor and his war staff and consists of dining, council and sleeping saloon cars, added to which are well-fitted boxes for his Majesty's chargers and his motorcar. The train carries expert telegraphers and is preceded and followed by armored trains.

NEAR A RUPTURE.

Italy Refuses To Permit Austrian Forces To Cross Country.

Rome.—Italy and Austria are near a serious rupture of relations following Italy's refusal to permit four Austrian army corps to cross Italian territory to reinforce the German army in Alsace. Austria's demand was based on its interpretation of the existing treaty. The Italian foreign office refused and declared that Italy intended to preserve her neutrality at all hazards.

MIDDLETOWN, DEL., AUG. 22, 1914

As the war is interfering with the fashions from Paris, we will now be obliged to design our own styles. Here is a fine chance for a new American declaration of independence.

FOOD PRICES ARE CRIMINAL

FAMINE prices for food throughout the United States are arbitrarily speculative and criminal. They have been imposed at a time when the greatest crops ever known are maturing and in the face of an embargo upon foreign commerce that may last long enough to glut our warehouses. It is thus that the war-makers of the earth heap terror upon terror and add suffering to suffering. The worst of their offenses is not always to be seen upon the field of battle. Savagely there has some redeeming traits, such as courage, devotion and sacrifice. In the market place it is altogether sordid and calculating. In conflict war kills and maims strong men. In trade it starves the aged, the young, the weak. The movement in Congress to investigate this outrage increase in the prices of provisions may be useful in a way, but it will not promptly reach the evil. What is needed is instant activity on the part of the Department of Justice. There can be no such general and exorbitant marking up of food prices in the absence of combination and conspiracy.

A MODEL EXAMPLE

The man who would speak to his fellow-men through the medium of a model example never feels it necessary to proclaim his virtues from the house tops; he is willing for his example to speak for itself; he never gets down so low as to smear over what he is doing or trying to do by indulging in self flattery and holding himself up before his brother men as one of the elect. A good example is immortal. It lives on and on, years and ages after the doer has slept in his grave. Its influence is felt upon one's contemporaries, by its posterity, and they, in turn, exert an influence upon their posterity, so that the seeds of a good example go on and on producing a harvest of good words and good works throughout the years. "Nothing is infectious as example." If good, it goes on doing; if bad, it may expect to be followed by a harvest of badness. No man liveth entirely unto himself. Every man exercises an influence upon those with whom he comes in close contact. Every man may not be aware of that, but it is true. If he lives an upright life, serves his country as a lover of his country, he may be sure that he is sowing the seeds of patriotism that will in the years go on producing that sort of a harvest.

Great Reduction in Gasoline

Local owners of automobiles and launches are happy over the way that the price of gasoline has dropped in the last month or two. At this time last year wholesale prices for "gas" ranged from 15 to 18 cents a gallon, and the consumer paid 20. At present the wholesale price is about 11 cents. The only explanation given for the drop is that the production of crude oil has increased not only in this country, but in all oil producing countries, but the increased production does not equal the reduction in gasoline prices. The reduction from some of last year's figures amounts to about 66 per cent. Another reason for the decline in price has been the inferior quality that is sold. Automobile owners are complaining that a few years ago the standard gasoline was 72 specific gravity by the Bureau standard. The gasoline that is now sold will not test more than 65, which is said to be but little more than an extremely inflammable grade of kerosene. This inferior gasoline seriously effects the life of a motor.

Farmers Buy Railroad

The Lancaster, Oxford & Southern Railroad, which has been on the verge of being thrown into the junk pile, has been purchased by a number of farmers for $30,000, they subscribing to the stock and closing the deal on the last day of the option.

The line is a narrow gauge railroad running from Oxford to Susquehanna, and is twenty miles long; for the present a motor-propelled car system will be used, and the new manager will be George Wagner, at present freight agent of the Columbia and Port Deposit Railroad at Port Deposit.

Stables Burned

In the storm on Tuesday evening of last week, the stables on the farm of Miss Augusta Lusby, near Cecilton, tenanted by James M. Lusby, were struck and fired by lightning, and burned to the ground. About 25 tons of hay and a lot of harness and implements were destroyed. Hard work by neighbors saved the other buildings.

CIRCUS COMING TO TOWN SOON

In the little town of Monroe, Louisiana, lived the family of Enos Haag, and about thirty-seven years ago there came to grace the family a son, and as soon as he could even play with toys, pet playthings were the toy animals his parents and neighbors had given him. When he grew older, his play days were spent playing circus and show, and when he was fortunate enough to see one of the circuses that visited his own home, he would elaborate on it in his own way, and so it went on until he was 19 years old. He then secured a position with one of the large circuses in an executive capacity, returning home at the finish of the season with one thought, to have a show of his own that would be recognized by the circus king, also a Southern show for Southern people. The following spring he bought a flat boat and organized a small show, floating down the Red River on the river front. He next bought a few wagons, and started an overland show, every year enlarging and getting new features and with ever that one idea and ambition, to give his friends, the public, the best money could procure, successful management suggest and brains devise. Every year Mr. Haag enlarged his show until it became too large to travel on wagons. It was then transposed to a railroad show with its own special trains.

In the eighteen years' history of this enterprise each year has been an unexampled growth and increase in size over the preceding one, and this year has been no exception to the rule. Mr. Haag has always had three principal objects in view, namely: Cleanliness, honesty, and kind treatment to all. Mr. Haag claims the distinction of being the only Southern gentleman owning and controlling a Southern show.

Haag Shows will exhibit at Middletown, Monday, September 7, 1914.

TACTICS SHOWN BY ARMY MOVES

Strategical Problems of Warring Nations Are Now Becoming Apparent.

KIEL CANAL IS BIG FACTOR

Capture of Waterway by Enemies of Germany Might Prove Turning Point of War—Importance of Paris and Berlin.

Notwithstanding the meagerness of details from Europe, the strategical problems for Germany and France have become more apparent during the last few days.

France must protect her frontier against German invasion and at the same time she must proceed as fast as possible towards the Kiel canal. That canal is apt to prove the turning point in the war if the triple entente gets control of it, according to a military expert writing for the Chicago Tribune.

Germany, on the other hand, must protect her French border and the Kiel canal and drive her forces into Russia as fast as possible.

The question now presented to Germany and France is where to attack.

The capture of Paris alone at present probably would not bring about a cessation of combat on the part of the French, as the sinews of war have been well provided further to the south.

Berlin is not Germany even to anywhere nearly as great an extent as Paris is France. The straight line distance from Marnum (the fortress before which the Germans have established touch with their French antagonists) to Paris is 150 miles; to Berlin, 400 miles; to the Kiel canal, 300 miles. The distance from Marnum to Berlin is about 400 miles; to the Kiel canal, 500 miles.

But the distance from Paris to Marnum is about 250 miles, and from Marnum to Mulhausen is 220 miles, and almost straight south by east of it, therefore away from Paris. While a opportunity and advanced on Marnum, Mulhausen, Colmar and the little strip in Lorraine, which were not defended, as it might be possible that the enthusiasm and popular clamor of the French would force an invasion of their lost provinces of Alsace-Lorraine. But it is highly improbable that a determined advance in force will be made on this line even should popular clamor demand it.

The German Plans. Germany on the other hand has not only France to attend to but Russia as well. In considering her plans she also must take into account Austria. Should Russia be allowed to mobilize fully and concentrate, it is probable that she would be able to overwhelm Austria, first attacking on the Lemberg-Bucharest (Roumania) line. It is probable that Germany is acting with rapidly against Russia.

What press dispatches have drifted through indicate that 40,000 Germans landed some three days ago between Hango and Helsinki in Finland. This force in all probability consisted of one army corps and one cavalry division, some additional heavy artillery, engineers and aeronautical troops.

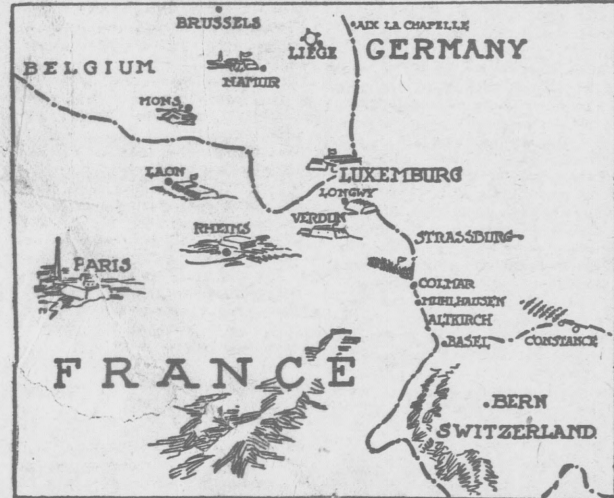

From Warsaw to St. Petersburg there are 12 Russian corps, but as these are not fully mobilized one German corps is probably as strong in men as two Russian corps just now. The German corps which landed in Finland and therefore behind St. Petersburg is undoubtedly designed to hold the four Russian corps in that vicinity to keep them from going to the assistance of the other Russian corps further to the south.

Again it was reported that the Russian government has decided to evacuate Warsaw, which was officially denied at St. Petersburg. Weighing this evidence, it seems probable that there has been a German advance from Intersburg in the direction of Vilna to hold the four Russian corps stationed in that district from doing any harm or going to any other place. Possibly three German corps, whose stations are close to Vilna, are engaged in that operation.

If the vigorous fighting of these four German corps, the one in Finland and the three against Vilna, is strong enough, eight Russian corps might probably be isolated and fully occupied with their own affairs and not able to move or concentrate anywhere else.

Austrians Invade Russia. It is reported that 150,000 Austrians had been assembled in Galicia and that march or line of operations directed on Berlin would involve a defeat of the German main army and such a great penetration of German territory probably would paralyze the defense—the distance is 400 miles. Every mile will be bitterly contested and every mile means thousands of lives and millions of money.

Kiel Canal Big Factor. The Kiel canal is the deciding factor in the control of the sea. It is 300 miles from Marnum. Many of Germany's great supply points are in the interval between. An advance on this line would be near the sea, where England could help with her ships. Once the Kiel canal is captured annihilation of the German fleet might result, which would give command of the Baltic sea to France and her allies and allow the unrestricted transport of Russian troops and material of war to the north German coast.

It therefore would appear that the strategy of France will aim at the capture of the Kiel canal, because it is the most important point strategically which Germany possesses. By this line of action France would utilize to the utmost England's great sea power. In addition, by a direct invasion in the direction of the Kiel canal France would cover Paris and her communications better than by any other route. An advance via Mulhausen and Strasbourg would be extremely dangerous and just what the Germans would like to see France do. Hence we see why Germany seized Liege at the earliest 44,000 of these were cavalry. This means that the three Austrian corps stationed in Galicia, or a little less than 100,000 combatants, with nine divisions of cavalry, about 44,000, have gone into Russia, but just where is left to the imagination.

Six corps, three German and three Austrian, and from 50,000 to 70,000 cavalry are probably advancing towards Brest-Litovsk. By the time these arrive there it is difficult to see how the Russians can have more than three full corps and 10,000 to 20,000 cavalry. Austrian troops have advanced along the eastern frontier that is just north of Roumania.

It seems probable that on the French frontier at the present time Germany has nine corps of the active army, assisted by one Austrian corps on the German extreme left, near the Swiss border. There probably are nine more corps of the first reserve and nine more of the second reserve also on the French frontier, which with all their auxiliaries amount to well over 1,000,000 fighting men.

It appears that if these million Germans care to remain on the defensive on the French border it will take a pretty goodly number of attackers to get them out of their intrenchments, if they ever can do it. Providing Austria and Germany are directing their main attack against Russia, France to reap any advantage must strike quickly and hard on a line as short, in a military way, as possible toward the Kiel canal.

the battlefield in an automobile found evidence of a desperate defense on the part of the inhabitants and savage vengeance meted out by the German soldiers.

The minister of marine has the names of 20,000 naval reservists too old to fight, and these he has placed at the disposal of the farmers, while the importation of foreign farm laborers is to be undertaken. The minister of agriculture realizes the seriousness of the proposition of feeding the army, and he has joined with the farm implement manufacturers to assure war supplies.

Holland has become the asylum of Europe. People expelled from half a dozen countries are pouring into this country by every route.

PANAMA CANAL OPEN TO WORLD

The New Highway is Put Into Service.

JUBILATION IN THE ZONE

Passage Through the Waterway Made in Nine Hours, Two Hours Less Than Schedule Time.

Panama.—The Panama Canal is open to the commerce of the world. Henceforth ships may pass to and fro through the great waterway which establishes a new ocean highway for trade.

The steamship Ancon, owned by the United States War Department, with many notable people on board, Saturday made the official passage which signaled the opening of the canal. She left Cristobal at 7 o'clock in the morning and reached Balboa, on the Pacific end, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, having navigated the waterway in nine hours.

The trip of the Ancon was the fastest yet made by a large ocean steamer, the locking operation being quicker, owing to greater experience. The steamer went through the Gatun locks in 70 minutes, a speed never before equaled. The other lockages were equally rapid.

Goethals Much Pleased. Col. George W. Goethals, builder of the canal and Governor of the Zone, watched the operations closely and was manifestly pleased at the improved handling of the locks. He declared that even this, would be made much better with time. Capt. Hugh Rodman, superintendent of transportation, who directed the trip, voiced similar sentiments.

Open To All the World

Washington, D. C.—With the passage through the Panama Canal Saturday of the War Department liner Ancon, the great waterway becomes, "free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations on terms of entire equality," in accordance with the provisions of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

Vessels drawing not more than 30 feet of water may now make the passage. It would be possible to put some of the big American dreadnaughts through at any time.

Any of the foreign warships now in the Atlantic and Pacific waters could also make the trip, but the naval plans of the European powers which have vessels off both coasts of the United States are not known here.

No embarrassment will face the United States should one of the vessels of the belligerents seek passage. Strict rules are laid down in the treaty for the perpetual neutralization of the canal, and every detail will be under the direction of Governor Goethals and his staff.

The principal work remaining to be done in completing the canal is the deepening and widening of the channel through Culebra cut, as well as excavation operations at both approaches.

Secretary Garrison sent this telegram to Governor Goethals:

"On behalf of the Government and the people of the United States I express to you, and through you to all concerned in the achievement, the intense gratification and pride experienced today. By the successful passage of vessels through the canal the dream of the centuries has become a reality. Its stupendous undertaking has been finally accomplished and a perpetual memorial to the genius and enterprise of our people has been created. The fully earned and deserved congratulations of a grateful people go out to you and your co-laborers."

"LINDLEY M. GARRISON.
Secretary of War."

A PAYMASTER'S ROLL GONE

Joseph Sheier, With Funds To Pay Off Miners; Dr. W. D. Amick and F. D. Johnson, Jr., Fell Into Hands Of Highwaymen.

Williamson, W. Va.—Joseph Sheier, paymaster of the Glenalum Coal and Coke Company, at Glenalum, Mingo county; Dr. W. D. Amick, company physician, and F. D. Johnson, Jr., company electrician, were murdered shortly after noon and the payroll of $15,000 was stolen by bandits, who escaped.

The paymaster and his two guards received the money from a Norfolk and Western train at Glenalum, and started for the mines, three miles away, on a velocipede car, operated over a spur track.

Traveling salesmen walking to the mine found the car, with the payroll gone, a mile from the station. Two of the men were dead, and the other said they had been attacked by four Italians, and then he died.

Poses were sent from this town and Bluefield, and bloodhounds from Matewan have been put on the trail of the bandits.

Mr. Johnson was a native of Lynchburg, Va., and son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Johnson, of that city. He was a brother of Mrs. James R. Gilliam and brother-in-law of Congressman Carter Glass.

All Five Bandits Dead.

Bluefield, W. Va.—The five bandits who murdered three men, stole $8,000, and then escaped to the mountains, are all dead, after a bloody battle of two days with Sheriff Hatfield's posse.

All except $1,700 of the $8,000 taken when the bandits killed the paymaster of the Glen Alum Fuel Company and two guards, was recovered after the last of the outlaws had been killed.

NO DELAY IN EXPOSITION.

President Says It Will Open At The Appointed Time.

Washington, D. C.—"Notify all foreign governments that there will be no postponement of the San Francisco Exposition," was the substance of a telegram which C. C. Moore, of San Francisco, president of the exposition, has sent to the State Department. The statement was in response to inquiries from Uruguay and Chile as to whether the exposition would still hold to its original plans in view of the European war. The exposition is to open on February 20, 1915.

LEE'S FRIEND DIES AT SEA.

Dr. J. R. Wood Was Chief Surgeon Of Pickett's Division.

San Francisco.—Dr. J. R. Wood, former chief surgeon of General Pickett's division in the Civil War, and a personal friend of Gen. Robert E. Lee, died of asthma a few days out from Nagasaki, on board the army transport Logan. His wife, who accompanied him, will have the body taken to New York.

THROWN OUT OF WORK BY WAR.

Thousands Of Men Here Lose Jobs On Account Of Conflict.

Charlotte, N. C.—Because of the unsettled condition of the cotton market and fear of the results of the war on the price of the staple, the Cannon chain of mills, located at Concord, Albemarle and Kannapolis, the Highland Park Mills of Charlotte and some of the Gastonia mills, are running but three days a week.

The train carries expert telegraphers and is preceded and followed by armored trains.

ORDERS TRUST TO DISSOLVE

Court Holds Harvester Trust Is Monopoly.

JUDGE SANBORN DISSENTS

Controls More Than Eighty Per Cent. Of The Trade In Necessary Farm Implements, Says the Decision.

St. Paul.—The International Harvester Company was declared to be a monopoly in restraint of interstate and foreign trade and was ordered dissolved by a majority decision filed here by Judges Smith and Hook in the United States Court. Judge Walter H. Sanborn dissented.

Unless the corporation submits a plan for dissolution within 90 days the court will entertain an application for a receiver.

Judge Hook, concurring, said: "The International Harvester Company is not the result of the normal growth of the fair enterprise of an individual, a partnership or a corporation. On the contrary, it was created by combining five great competing companies which controlled more than 80 per cent. of the trade in necessary farm implements, and it still maintains a substantial dominance."

"That is the controlling fact; all else is detail. It may be, as is said, that there is a growing recognition of the need of great concentrated resources for trade and commerce, even though secured by combination of independent competing concerns. But that is not the Sherman act, and a statute must be taken by the courts as a true estimate of the preponderance of public opinion, which calls for legislative expression. It is not for them to question whether that opinion was rightly weighed or interpreted, whether it is wise or unwise or whether it has since changed."

Business Is Fair.

"It is but just, however, to say and to make it plain that in the main the business conduct of the company towards its competitors and the public has been honorable, clean and fair. Some petty dishonesties were tracked in at the start, mostly by subordinates who had been in the service of the old companies, but they were soon gotten rid of. In this connection it should also be said that specific charges of misconduct were made in the government's petition, which found no warrant whatever in the proof. They were of such a character and there was so much of them apparently without foundation that the case is exceptional in that particular."

PINCHOT TAKES A BRIDE.

Former National Forester Weds Miss Cornelia E. Bryce.

New York.—Miss Cornelia E. Bryce, daughter of Lloyd Stevens Bryce, former Minister to the Netherlands, and Gifford Pinchot, former Chief Forester of the United States, were married in the Episcopal Church at Roslyn, Long Island. On account of the illness of Mr. Pinchot's mother, only relatives and a few intimate friends were present. A reception followed at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryce at Roslyn.

ITALIANS GUARD FRONTIERS.

Big Force Mobilized Along Swiss and Austrian Borders.

Geneva, Switzerland.—Italy has mobilized between 200,000 and 250,000 troops on the Swiss and Austrian frontiers as a precautionary measure. All the high passes over the Alps, such as the Theodoule above Zermatt, are strongly held and Swiss and Italian patrols meet there and exchange their impressions of the war.

DORCHESTER FIRED ON.

Merchants and Miners' Liner Forced To Show Colors.

Newport News, Va.—Shortly after leaving Boston, en route to this port, the Merchants and Miners' steamer Dorchester, Captain Hatch, was fired at three times by an unidentified warship, thought to be the British cruiser Suffolk. At the time the Dorchester was flying no flag, but the shots caused the Stars and Stripes to be hastily run up, whereupon the warship put about and was gone out of sight.

INQUIRY INTO FOOD PRICES

President Asks Department of Justice to Act.

TO LOCATE CONSPIRACY

Those Responsible For Sudden Rise In Cost Of Living Will Be Prosecuted—Big Cities Aroused.

Washington, D. C.—President Wilson directed the Department of Justice immediately to institute a searching investigation into the causes of the sudden rise in prices of foodstuffs.

Attorney-General McReynolds, a few hours later, set in motion the machinery for the probe. He first asked Secretary of Commerce Redfield for co-operation, and the experts of that department will be put at the service of the Department of Justice.

The determined way in which the President took hold of the food situation upon his return from the South shows that the whole force of the Administration will be thrown into the investigation for the purpose of punishing the "food gougers."

Will Start in Baltimore.

The inquiry will first be prosecuted in Baltimore, New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Detroit, Kansas City, Portland, Seattle, Omaha, Louisville, Galveston, St. Paul, Denver, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Dallas, Atlanta, Norfolk and New Orleans.

The following letter was sent to United States District Attorneys in those cities by Attorney-General McReynolds:

"The department, by its special agents in various parts of the country, has instituted an investigation into the marked increases in the price of foodstuffs since the outbreak of the European war, with a view of ascertaining whether the increases are due to any combination of combinations in restraint of trade or other unlawful actions. Please co-operate by communicating to the department any information which you obtain on the subject, together with your opinion in respect of the appropriate action to be taken."

May Ask For Legislation.

If Attorney-General McReynolds determines that there is no law under which the "food gougers" can be punished, the President will ask legislation to be passed.

The President's Letter.

President Wilson's letter to Attorney-General McReynolds was as follows:

"The rapid and unwarranted increase in the prices of foodstuffs in this country upon the pretext of the conditions existing in Europe is so serious and vital a matter that I take the liberty of calling your attention to it."

"I would be very much obliged if you would advise me whether there is, under existing law, any action which the Department of Justice could take, either by way of investigation or legal process, and what Federal legislation, if any, would in your judgment be justifiable and warrantable in the circumstances."

"I feel that this is a matter which we cannot let pass by without trying to serve the country. Certainly the country ought to be defended, if possible, against men who would take advantage of such circumstances to increase the price of food and the difficulties of living."

Department Of Justice Ready.

Attorney-General McReynolds at once replied to the President as follows:

"I have your letter of August 13, in reference to the unwarranted increase in the price of foodstuffs."

"The head of our special agents has been instructed to give directions to his men throughout the country to begin investigations in order to ascertain the real facts, and I am sending the various district attorneys similar instructions. This should enable us to secure some definite information in respect of true conditions."

"May I take the liberty of suggesting that perhaps the agents of the Department of Commerce could render valuable assistance along the lines indicated."

"When we have become somewhat more familiar with the exact situation I hope to be able to make you some suggestion in respect of legal proceedings or appropriate legislation."

"The department has for some time been making investigations in various directions concerning the price of foodstuffs."

England Guarantees Quick Resumption Of Passenger Service.

London.—The British admiralty gave the assurance that the ocean routes are well patrolled and a guarantee of the quick resumption of the Atlantic passenger service. Several steamships which previously had been provisionally requisitioned for government purposes have now had their sailing dates fixed.

JOHN P. HOLLAND DEAD.

He Was Inventor Of Submarine Which Bears His Name.

Newark, N. J.—John P. Holland, inventor of the submarine boat which bears his name, died of pneumonia at his home here after a month's illness. He was 72 years of age. Although builder of war vessels, Mr. Holland was opposed to war. His idea of the usefulness of submarines was to have them incapacitate hostile ships without destroying them and their officers and crews.

SUPPLEMENT OF THE MIDDLETOWN TRANSCRIPT

Official Inspection of Brands of Fertilizers

Offered for Sale in Delaware in the Spring of 1914

By CHARLES L. PENNY, State Chemist

The following tables show for each Brand the guaranteed and the actual analysis expressed as percentage, also the money valuation of the ingredients, both separate and combined.

The "Guaranteed Analysis" gives in order the Ammonia, Available Phosphoric Acid and Potash, except that in the case of untreated Bones the Total Phosphoric Acid is instead of the Available.

Brands that fall below the guarantee in one constituent but that make up the deficiency by excess in any other, thus giving full value, are marked "FV" at the right of the table.

Nitrogen, in whatever form it may be present, is always reckoned as Ammonia. "Inactive Nitrogen," here reckoned as Ammonia and expressed like the other constituents as a percentage of the entire fertilizer, represents forms of Nitrogen less readily available and probably less valuable. It has been determined by the "Neutral Permanganate," or the "Street," method. The Phosphoric Acid given for untreated Bones (Bone Meal, Ground Bones, etc.) and for "Basic Slag" (No. 2154), is the Total Phosphoric Acid, though printed in the column headed "Available," but marked with "T" in each case. "Fine" bone is such as will pass a sieve of fiftieth-inch meshes, "Coarse," such as will not pass. In Potash fertilizers any chlorine present is reckoned as "Muriate" up to the limit of the Potash. In all of the Brands here reported Potash is counted as Muriate.

The Money valuations show first the separate value of the Ammonia, the Total Phosphoric Acid and the Potash and then their combined value, in a ton (2000 lbs.) of fertilizer. These values represent the retail cost of the constituents without allowance for expenses of manufacture, freight, commission, profit, etc.

Hence the "Estimated Value per Ton" should be understood rather as for the purpose of comparison than as an indication of a fair selling price; the latter must vary with local conditions. The values are estimated from the prices used in most of the New England and Middle States. These prices, which have been determined by adding twenty per cent. to the wholesale price to represent the retail, are as follows: Ammonia in mixed fertilizers, "fine" bone and bone tankage, 16c per pound; in "coarse" bone, 14c. In acidulated fertilizers, available phosphoric acid 4.25c, and insoluble phosphoric acid 2c. Total phosphoric acid in "fine" bone 4c, in "coarse" bone 3c. Potash as muriate 4c, as sulphate 5c.

The several brands of Ground Bone were found to have the following degrees of fineness, the figures denoting the percentage of "Fine" Bone, or that which passes the fifty mesh sieve: No. 2026—41%; No. 2045—64%; No. 2046—55%; No. 2102—53%; No. 2129—25%; No. 2108—37%; No. 2180—38%; No. 2181—63%; No. 2198—61%; No. 2207—50%; No. 2221—20%; No. 2272—60%.
